MEMPHIS APPEAL.

THE JACOBIN PLATFORM.

The Fifth resolution or Article of the Jacobin Platform declares that, as the National debt was contracted for the preservation of the Union for all time to come, it should "be extended over a fair period for redemption," and the rate of interest upon it reduced whenever it can be honestly done.

This is as definite as the description of the stone that was "about as big as a piece of chalk." What is to be deemed "a fair period for redemption"? As the preservation of the Union is for all time, that may perhaps be "the period for redemption." The resolution is, however, a declaration against any present or other than a remote attempt to pay the debt; and really means that it is to be perpetual, like the national debt of Great Britain; which it unquestionably must be, unless it is repudiated, or unless it causes, as it is very likely to do in the end, a division of the Union. The people are to continue to be taxed as enormously as at present, to pay the interest on it, while, so far from diminishing, it will probably continue to increase; and the day when the rate of interest can honestly be reduced is very far distant. The chief purpose of the resolution was to appreciate the value of untaxed bonds in the hands of holders in the North, by guaranteeing that they should not be called in until some undefined time in the future, and that the interest payable in gold should not be diminished. How acceptable this will be to those who pay the interest, remains to be seen, especially as this interest is paid by the unconstitutional levy of a direct tax on incomes, by imposts payable in gold, and by a stamp tax that finds no warrant in the Constitution.

The Sixth resolution enumerates the proposition that the best way to diminish the debt is to improve the country's credit, so that it can borrow money at low rates; and that this is not to be expended, while repudiation, "partial or total open or covert," is threatened or suspected. No party nor any considerable number of men threatened direct repudiation; and the phrases "partial or total open or covert," must therefore be meant to apply to the proposition that the principal of the five-twenties is lawfully payable in currency. This, therefore, is an additional bid for the influence and support of the bondholders. It may mean also, that it means that to tax the bonds would be pro tanto repudiation. As to the financial proposition, there is no doubt that to borrow at a lower rate of interest, and use the money in paying a debt bearing a higher rate, is to diminish the burden of the debt; but the debt itself will not be much diminished by the mere process of borrowing. The best way, the only way, to diminish that would be to lessen the expenditures of the government, dry up the perennial springs of corruption, increase the revenues, and with the revenues by degrees reduce the indebtedness. This the necessities of the party, unfortunately, make it impossible to do. Corruption and extravagance are the life-blood of Jacobinism. With these it purchases the votes that maintain it in power, and it must say, upon any attempt at reform,

"You take my life,
When you do take the means whereby I live."

The Seventh resolution pronounces that the Government should be administered with the strictest economy; and declares that the corruptions which have been so shamefully nursed and fostered by Andrew Johnson call loudly for radical reform. This impudent pretence of the party to the possession of economical instincts where the interests of the country are involved, reminds one most forcibly of Pollok's description of the hypocrite:

"The Hypocrite hed left his mask, and stood
In naked ugliness. He was a man
Who stole the livery of the Court of Heaven
To serve the devil in.
In holy phrase transacted villainies
That common sinners durst not meddle with.

And none of sin lamented more, or sighed
More deeply or with braver countenance,
Or longer prayer, wept o'er the dying man,
Whose infant children, at the moment, he Planned how to rob.
. . . . With one hand he put
A penny in the urn of poverty,
And with the other took a shilling out."

Jacobinism is the False Priest, who

"Swore
Away all love of lucre, all desire
Of earthly pomp; and yet a princely seat
He lik'ed; and to the clink of Mammon's box
Gave most rapacious ear. . . .
He with untempered mortar daubed the walls
Of Zion, saying, Peace, when there was none.

He was a wolf in clothing of the lamb,
That stole into the fold of God, and on
The blood of souls, which he did sell to death,
Grew fat; and yet, when any would have turned
Him out, he cried, "Touch not the Priest of God!"
And that he was anointed, fools believed;
But knew that day, he was the Devil's Priest,
Anointed by the hands of Sin and Death,
And set peculiarly apart for ill."

The Eighth resolution recites the high crimes and misdemeanours of Andrew Johnson. With what propriety a recital of these, even if it were as true as it is false, is incorporated into a platform or declaration of principles, we utterly fail to see, unless it is meant to read out of the party the seven Republican Senators who voted for acquittal. Nor should we have supposed that profound regret for the death of Abraham Lincoln was a necessary plank of such a platform.

The Ninth resolution pledges the party to secure to naturalized citizens all the rights of the native-born, and no longer to permit the doctrine of perpetual allegiance to be held anywhere. There is nothing in that, we suppose, peculiar to Radicalism, for the Government has always been bound, in honour and good faith, to protect its naturalized citizens, the Constitution making no difference between them and those born on the soil.

The Tenth guarantees the payment of the bounties and pensions given by law to the soldiers and sailors of the Union, their widows and orphans. As no one has ever proposed to violate the faith of the nation in this respect, or advocated ingratitude to those who have shed their blood in the country's service; and as the Democratic party will cheerfully give the same pledge, and has never refused or been reluctant to vote such bounties and pensions, this resolution cannot form a distinctive and peculiar feature of the creed of any one party.

The Eleventh resolution pronounces in favour of encouraging foreign emigration. We do not know what further encouragement Radicalism proposes to give by legislation, beyond that which the laws already give, and which has proved amply sufficient. Nor do we know to what other than the Democratic party, in the past, the encouragement of foreign emigration has been owing. What has Radicalism done to encourage it?

Of the Twelfth resolution a Baltimore journal says:

The most astounding specimen of what in the slang vocabulary is called "cheek" is exhibited in the closing resolution, which announces: "This Convention declares its sympathy with all the oppressed people who are struggling for their rights." We can imagine how Stevens will grin over this—how Wade will playfully commend the declaration in a few choicely obscene phrases—how Yates will give it for a toast over his twentieth tumbler. "Sympathy with all the oppressed people who are struggling for their rights!" A large-hearted sentiment, that! Sympathy for Irishmen, for Poles, for Cretans—sympathy for Mexican bandit and Cuban negro—sympathy for all men, black and white, Jew and Gentile—save and except a negro in the North and a white Democrat in the South. The right to vote is an inherent and indefeasible one, according to the Radical creed, but that party has persistently refused that right to the negro, though it has controlled all the Northern States by large majorities. The rights of self-government and civil liberty are the birthright of every American citizen, but ten States are held prostrate under the heel of a military despotism. Throughout the whole length and breadth of the Southern land every citizen is liable to be turned out of office, fined, imprisoned, or sent hand-cuffed to the Dry Tortugas at the bidding of any one of the satraps who govern the Provinces, and on the complaint of any negro who chooses to make one.

Perhaps the Convention had no sympathy with the oppressed people of the South, because they are no longer "struggling for their rights," but submit patiently to the will of the victor and the law of force. The sympathies of Radicalism are all with the negro, with whose aid they oppress the white man.

or Tunis, to be released of his bonds, forswore the Saviour and became a renegade. Some of these were the most extreme and violent secessionists and fire-eaters, advocated the hanging of all who desired to adhere as long as possible to the Union, or were of Northern birth; and were prepared to drink every drop of blood that would be shed in consequence of secession. It is men like these that Radicalism proposes to reward and purchase, and not those only who are honest and worthy though in error. If subornation of perjury, the bribing or procuring a man to swear falsely, is a crime, it is one equally as infamous to seduce men by the promise of immunity and reward, to violate all the obligations of honor and to become apostates from their political faith, betrayers of their people, and the allies of their people's oppressors. Force is more creditable than fraud, Radicalism, to complete the subjugation of the South, resorts to both, and where it cannot bend the stubborn will or shake convictions by oppression and violence, it resorts to corruption and endeavours to make baseness honorable by making it profitable.

The Fourteenth and last resolution recognizes the great principles of the Declaration of Independence as the true foundation of Democratic Government, and proposes that they shall become a living reality on every inch of American soil.

The immortal Declaration of Independence was published to the world by the Colonies of Great Britain, as their justification, when they determined "to dissolve the political bands" which had connected them with the mother country. And among the chief reasons for their action they at the outset announced this proposition: that whenever any form of government becomes destructive of the ends for which government is instituted, "it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new government, laying its foundation on such principles, and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness."

It was also announced as an axiom, that Governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed. This principle is admirably applied by Radicalism in its government of the Southern States by Military Despotisms.

When these States asserted their right, under the Declaration of Independence, "to dissolve the political bands that have connected them" with the States of the North, "and to assume, among the Powers of the Earth, the separate and equal station to which the laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitled them," Radicalism forgot that the Declaration of Independence forbade the Northern States to deny them the right to institute a new Government. The events of the last three years have proven that the people of the South were justifiable in attempting to win their independence, because they were no longer safe in the Union.

The declarations that we have quoted, and this, that when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same object, evinces a design to reduce a people under absolute despotism, it is not only their right, but their duty to throw off the yoke of such government, and to provide new guards for their future security, are the only general principles asserted in that instrument, except one to be hereafter mentioned; and every one of them justifies the South, and convicts Radicalism of crime.

The truth is that the Resolution in question does not allude at all to these great principles, but exclusively to the clause which declares that all men are born free and equal, and possess certain inalienable rights, among which the right to vote is not enumerated. The Resolution simply means negro suffrage, and it means it in the Northern States as well as the Southern, notwithstanding the miserable and sneaking Second Resolution. It is a declaration that Radicalism will use its most earnest efforts to establish negro equality and negro suffrage over every inch of American soil.

To sum up the whole, the platform insists on the maintenance of the reconstruction policy of Congress, with all its devilish engineery of military despotism; it pledges the party to insist on the advantages obtained by means of outrageous frauds committed in the Southern States, by means of which the scallawag Constitutions have been made and are pretended to have been adopted, and to enforce those Constitutions. It assures the bondholders that the principal as well as the interest of the five-twenty bonds shall be paid in gold, and the rate of interest not reduced, nor the bonds paid off in haste. It promises no relief from excessive and unjust taxation, unequally laid on the people as a burthen too heavy to be borne. It makes hypocritical professions of economical and honest purposes, which are not meant to be kept; guarantees naturalized citizens their rights, and to soldiers and sailors, and their widows and orphans, pensions and bounties; proposes to encourage foreign emigration and reward Southern renegades, and sympathizes with all oppressed people who are struggling for their rights; and it announces the determination of the Jacobins to establish negro suffrage everywhere.

It gives the great Northwest no assurance that its people shall no longer be grievously oppressed with protective tariffs for the benefit of Northeastern manufacturers, or by relieving these manufacturers from the principal part of their fair share of the burthen of indirect taxation. It does not promise to relieve the country from the evils of the National Bank system, or even to cease paying those institutions interest on the bonds deposited by them to secure their circulation. To the labouring classes it holds out no hope of a return to a specie currency and of relief from the continual fluctuations of a paper currency without specie basis, issued by the Government; and, in all that affects or concerns those classes, it makes only vague professions and holds out delusive inducements for their votes. It does not promise to abandon the practice of aiding schemes of sectional improvement, which tax the people of the whole Union for the benefit of a few. It does not promise to reduce the army, or dispense with the Freedmen's Bureau, or restore the reign of the laws, or respect the judicial tribunals. These mottoes emblazoned on the Jacobin banners could embody the whole creed in a few brief sentences:—"Maintain Military Despotisms, Military Commissions and Scallawag Constitutions. Negro Suffrage forever. Gold for the bondholders, and taxation and currency for the people. Oppressions for our own people, and sympathy for the oppressed every where else. Rewards for renegades; bounties for the manufacturer. Direct taxes and stamp-duties; Extravagance and Corruption forever!"

Of the intention to subjugate the Executive and disarm the Judiciary it says not a word. Excellent creed and discreet reticence!

For President of the United States,

ANDREW JOHNSON,

OF TENNESSEE.

Subject only to the decision of the National Democratic Conservative Convention.]

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

By direction of the Democratic Central Committee, a State Convention is called, to assemble at the city of Nashville, on the 9th day of June, 1868, for the purpose of appointing delegates to attend the National Democratic Convention, which will meet at the city of New York, on the 4th day of July next.

The people of the different counties throughout the State, are requested to hold County Conventions and appoint delegates to represent them in said State Convention.

All persons opposed to the policy of the Radical party are cordially invited to participate.

Democratic and Conservative newspapers of the State are requested to publish this call.

By order of the Central Committee,
THOS. R. JENNINGS, Chm'n.
L. D. WALKER, Sec'y.

A SAD STORY.

To intrude upon the sacred privacy of domestic sorrow is no part of the prerogative of the Press; but to right the causes and vindicate the fair fame of the dead is a holy duty, and none the less so when death has been invited as more welcome than the sorrows of life.

We have been made acquainted, by those who know all, with all that led to the suicide of Mrs. Kate Kruger, (not Miss Gruber), whose body was lately recovered from the Mississippi.

To make it known that no stain nor the faintest shadow of just reproach rests upon the fair fame of the young woman who, sensitive to censure so rashly fled from the ills of life, it is not necessary to detail the circumstances of the case. It is not our mission to gratify an idle curiosity.

Mrs. Kruger was a young and charming widow. Engaged to be married to one gentleman, and becoming by degrees attached to another, as often happens even when the first attachment is sincere and the party is not of a fickle nature,—at a loss, no doubt, to choose between the two, and so delaying to break her engagement with one, while she received the attentions of the other, she seemed to trifle with the former, when probably she was not sure that she loved the other more, and was reluctant to break with her first love while so in doubt. Her relatives, careful of her womanly fame, and using, perhaps somewhat too harshly for a sensitive nature, the prerogatives of relationship and age, censured her. From an injury to the head, received when a child, she had always shown occasional signs of slight, but decided mental aberration, and had sometimes spoken of an inclination that possessed her, to seek rest and quiet in the bosom of the Mississippi.

Wounded and mortified, she sought that rest and peace. She sleeps now the sleep that knows no waking. It is not the first time by thousands, that an oversensitive nature has found even the ordinary sorrows of life too hard to bear, and that those who bear their sorrows more lightly have wondered at the insufficiency of the causes that darkened the soul with despair and led to suicide.

This is all. It is a sad story, and may teach more than one profitable lesson.

MORE MILITARY COMMISSIONS.

By the kindness of a friend just from Madison, Arkansas, we are put in possession of the following copy of the charges and specifications on which Colonel David C. Cross is now being tried at that place, by a Military Commission. The impression is, our informant says, that Colonel Cross will be acquitted, the President of the Commission, General Ayers, being a fair, impartial and honourable man.

The first charge is assault and battery. The first and second specifications of this charge are for a simple assault only, the punishment for which, by the law of Arkansas, is a small fine. The third specification undertakes to set out an assault and battery on a freedman.

The second charge is for carrying concealed weapons,—an offence against the statute law of Arkansas, but with which, as it in no wise affects its sable pets, the Freedman's Bureau has nothing to do.

It is an outrage to try a citizen by Military Commission for this offence, and we do not believe that General Gillem has authorized it. If he has, he might as well at once transfer the whole criminal jurisdiction of the Circuit Courts and Justices of the Peace, in Arkansas, to Military Commissions. We have no idea that he has authorized the trial of Colonel Cross for anything except his alleged mistreatment of a freedman, one of those privileged aristocrats of the land, who are too good to be tried by the ordinary courts of criminal jurisdiction, and who have the right to claim a higher tribunal for the trial of such rash white men as may offend the honour or wound the feelings of those in whose veins runs that "rich blood" that is to rejuvenate and re-invigorate the race of American white men.

As to the other charge, it is a great farce to order Military Commissions, with Brigadier Generals presiding, to try men for assaults or assault and battery. It is a small, low and dirty business.

Charges and specifications against David C. Cross, citizen—assault and battery:

1. In this, that the said Cross did proceed to the house of Allen Freeman, a freedman, and did assault him by drawing a pistol and threatening to blow his brains out if he spoke, compelling said Freeman to be silent while he, Cross, did most outrageously abuse him. This in Cross county, Arkansas, on or about the 20th of September, 1867.

2. In this, that the said Cross did assault Allen Freeman, a freedman, in the house occupied by Justice Spraggins, of Cross county, by uplifting a chair and attempting to strike him, and exclaiming, "I will scatter your brains, you damned son of a bitch." This in Cross county, Ark., on or about the 15th March, 1868.

3. In this, that the said David C. Cross did meet one Robert Freeman, (freedman), in the public road, took off his (Cross') coat, split a board, took one of the pieces, did assault and beat him. This near Cleburne, Cross county, Ark, on or about the 4th of February, 1868.

Charge 2d.—Carrying concealed and deadly weapons.

Specification 1st.—In this, that David C. Cross, citizen of Cross county, Ark., being accused of carrying concealed weapons, and being asked to deliver them up, did deny the charge; whereupon, being told that he would be searched by Corporal Dupree, company "G," 19th Infantry, who had been charged with Cross's arrest, he gave up a loaded pistol, which was concealed upon his person. This near Madison, Saint Francis county, Ark., 1868.

[Signed] A. G. RENNESSEE,
2d Lieutenant 19th Infantry.

CONDENSED DECISIONS OF THE SUPREME COURT.

Brownsville, June Term, 1868.

BY H. CLAY KING, ESQ.

No. 12—Jones vs. Jones. From Haywood Chancery.

Bill to impeach a consent decree for fraud, and for want of authority in the attorney to consent to the same.

Held: 1. To annul a decree for fraud, the proceeding must be by original bill in the nature of a bill of review, setting out the facts constituting the fraud. It cannot be done by petition.

2 A consent decree may be impeached.

3 To set aside a judgment or decree for want of authority in the attorney to act, the attacking party must make out his case with clear proof, showing promptness and diligence on his part, unmixed with any fault or neglect.

4. The same strictness is not required when fraud is the ground relied on by the attacking party, for fraud will always vacate the decree or judgment on its being shown.

5. An attorney under a general warrant of employment may assent to a decree.

Consent decree sustained.

No. 13—M. C. Graw vs. Memphis and Ohio Railroad Company.

This is a proceeding by garnishment against Knowlton, Treasurer of the company. He answered that he was merely the passive agent and servant of the company, and that the funds were not in his possession, but in the possession of the company, and in the treasury of the company.

Held: 1. Where the property is in the actual and substantial possession of the officer, his mere servant having the custody of the property by virtue of his employment, is not liable under the Code to garnishment.

2. But where the actual and substantial possession is with the agent he is liable to garnishment.

3. Knowlton, not having the substantial possession in his case of the money in his hands, but the same being in the active possession of the company, and subject to their immediate orders, he is not liable to garnishment for the debts of the company.

4. The road, fixtures and equipments, both those in existence at the date of the loan from the State, and those acquired afterwards, are subject to the lien reserved by the State under the General Improvement act.

5. The earnings of the road are not embraced in the property on which the State retains a lien. They are necessary for the successful operation of the road.

NEW ORLEANS CORRESPONDENCE.

NEW ORLEANS, LA., June 6, 1868.

Editors Memphis Appeal:

It was in our last, if we remember rightly, the closing of the St. James Hotel in this city, was mentioned, and we have now to announce a similar course on the part of the management of the St. Charles, which, for the first time in its history, closes its ever hospitable portals on the 10th inst., to that public from which it has hitherto received such generous and appreciative support. What more pertinent comment on the hardness of the times can we advert to, than in the case of these two favorite resorts, or the stagnation which has clouded New Orleans like a pall, when a great city like this can no longer support one first-class hotel. Truly it is a significant commentary on the misrule of the malignants, whose suicidal course, so painfully felt throughout the whole country, we fondly trust, will be ended forever in the November elections, or unnumbered woes indeed must overwhelm this once free and happy people.

The liberally patronized fete champetre of last week, one would have supposed, must have exhausted the contributions of the charitable, especially in these hard, hard times; but notwithstanding the thousands of dollars thus bestowed, a series of races came off early in the present week for the benefit of the family of the last Confederate held as a prisoner of war—Lieut. Braine, of the Southern navy—at which the ladies and gentlemen of the city appeared in large numbers, and a very handsome sum was again realized for this worthy object. Will not the citizens of Memphis, usually so liberal, also devise some method of contributing to the relief of the suffering family of this victim of the tyranny and petty spite of "the best government the world ever saw?" It is meet that they should, and all our fair country women and generous countrymen should be pleased to emulate the example thus set them by the patriotic and benevolent ladies of the Crescent City who are never weary of well-doing in the cause of charity and worth.

The Parlor Opera Troupe, of which Miss McCollough is prima donna, and which has been so universally lauded by the whole Southern press, including the journals of New Orleans, will be in the Bluff City early in the coming week, and we believe are to appear at the New Memphis for two or three consecutive evenings. A rare treat is in store for your music-loving citizens in this brief engagement, and the lighter operas will be sung with exquisite taste and effect. Grand opera they wisely do not attempt without the choruses and instrumentation only to be obtained in large cities; but what they do essay is exceedingly well executed.

New Orleans continues to be perfectly healthy, and the "can't-get-aways" are very numerous, notwithstanding the hygeria which has been in progress the past two weeks.

Heatedly yours, GUMBO.

We quite approve of Woolley's being placed in a cell, and even of his being kept for a reasonable time on bread and water. But we ask the Investigating Committee whether, on consideration, they think his crime quite black enough to warrant his being shut up with Miss Vinnie Ream's statue of Lincoln. Does not this come under the head of cruel and unusual punishment forbidden by the Constitution?—N. Y. Tribune.

Is it because the punishment would have been still more cruel and unusual, that the Committee or Jailor Colfax have been considerate enough for Woolley, to remove from his cell the bust of Horace Greeley, made by the same Miss Vinnie Ream, and which so faithfully and accurately reproduces the features and simpering expression of the Philosopher of the Tribune?

—It has been found necessary at Marshall, Texas, to make the following announcement: "The Mayor requests us to state to the ladies that he is not having guards out at present, and their missing husbands last night were keeping a different watch."

—A gay and festive female who had been masquerading in pantaloons, high-top boots, and other masculine paraphernalia, for four years past, and inciting the jealousy of all the beaux in her particular circle, has just been discovered in New York, where she was engaged to be married to a young lady in Madison avenue.

CHARLESTON.

CHARLESTON, June 8.—Returns from the county elections held last week, show that the Radicals again carried most of the counties, but by reduced majorities. Many counties in the interior which gave Radical majorities in April, have elected a Democratic county ticket, and in some of these the registration showed large negro majorities.

NASHVILLE.

NASHVILLE, June 8.—The Democratic State Convention to-morrow promises to be the largest held for years. Chase is universally urged, Johnson has many friends, and Pendleton as many or more. The friends of Johnson declare that Pendleton is their second choice. No other names are seriously mentioned in connection with the nomination.

ST. LOUIS.

ST. LOUIS, June 8.—Helena, Montana, papers report that the Indians are stealing stock in the Missouri valley. They have already driven away two hundred head of stock, and the farmers are pursuing them. The Indians are also troublesome on the upper Missouri in driving off stock. On May 21st they fired at the pilot on a boat, and on the 26th killed two soldiers at camp Reeves in sight of their tents. On the 29th they fired on the steamer Herom Wood, above Berthold, three shots entering the pilot house, but injuring no one. On June 3d Gen. Terry and Father Dismat were at Fort Rice, urging peace upon the whole Sioux nation. The Indians say they don't care about peace, and want more ammunition.

NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, June 8.—In consequence of the arrest of Packard on Saturday, the balance of the Convention Board of Registration issued yesterday another proclamation, denouncing Gen. Buchanan and endorsing Packard. They were also arrested this morning, but subsequently released by Gen. Buchanan in consequence of a telegram from Gen. Grant. Gen. Buchanan informed them that should Congress fail to legislate in the manner of the admission of Louisiana, they would be re-arrested and brought to trial by a military commission.

The suit brought by Gov. Welles and Mayor Heath, to test the legality of the last election of Directors of the New Orleans, Jackson and Great Northern Railroad, in which the notes of the State and city were excluded, was decided by the Supreme Court to-day. The decision of the lower Court was reversed, and the Court decided that the Governor had a right to vote the stock of the State and the Mayor the stock of the city.

A new election has been ordered.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—There was much excitement here to day, on the occasion of forming the new city government, certificates of election having been given to the Republicans and the retiring Mayor having given certificates to the Conservatives. The two equally divided bodies met in the Aldermanic Chamber, and each having elected a presiding officer, much confusion ensued, and the presence of a strong police force alone prevented violence. A Radical member of the committee, appointed to canvass the votes, announced the election of Sayles J. Bowen by 83 votes. This was persistently denied by the opposition. Bowen appeared and was sworn in by a Justice of the Peace, when Mr. Bowen, acting under legal advice, sent a force of locksmiths who opened the doors, and he now has full possession.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Rollins, has written a letter to the Secretary of the Treasury, resigning his position, the resignation to take effect on the confirmation of the Treasurer.

The Conservative members of the Board of Aldermen have entered on the Journal a protest of what they characterize an illegal proceeding of a minority of the Joint Convention, in declaring Sayles J. Bowen, Mayor elect. They further protest against the two negroes as members from the First ward, as none but white male citizens, they say, are entitled to seats in the Council. The Republicans although not united in a protest, are equally emphatic in asserting the correctness of their own course. It is not known how the trouble will be adjusted.

The public debt statement shows the whole amount to be $2,643,753,566 88; coin in the Treasury, $90,228,559 81; currency, $43,279,120.

CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Van Winkle, from the Committee on Pensions, reported adversely to the bill declaring that marriage shall not work a forfeiture of a widow's pension.

A resolution of inquiry was adopted, whether further legislation is necessary to secure greater facilities at local stations for postoffices in large cities.

Davis introduced a bill to facilitate decisions of questions of conflicting jurisdiction between the United States and the States by the Supreme Court, which was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Conkling, by permission, called up the joint resolution to provide for a removal of a suit pending in the Circuit Court of Jefferson county, West Virginia, to the Circuit Court of the United States. It relates to a portion of the Harper's Ferry property, the sale of which, was recently authorized by Congress.

Hendricks opposed the resolution, and moved to refer it to the Committee on Judiciary, which was rejected, and the resolution adopted.

The consideration of the special order was then resumed. The question being on the amendment of Wilson to include in the claim the provisions of the bill.

Morton, after some remarks, gave notice that when it was in order he would move to insert an additional provision:

1. Making it the duty of the officers commanding Districts to allow all officers elected under the new Constitutions, and not disqualified, to be installed within 20 days after the election, and to protect them in the discharge of their duties; said officers to be deemed provisional only, and subject to United States authority, until the provisions of this act are complied with.

2. Providing that in case any person shall be elected to office who would be disqualified under the Constitution when adopted, the person receiving the next highest number of votes shall be entitled to discharge the duties until a new election is held under the provisions of the State Constitution.

During the discussion, the signing of the bill to admit Arkansas was announced by the chair. It now goes to the President for approval or rejection.

The Senate then adjourned.

HOUSE.

Bills and resolutions were presented for reference as follows:

Requesting the Judiciary Committee to inquire into the cause of the delay in the trial of Jefferson Davis, and whether any legislation is necessary or not to ensure a speedy trial;

To provide for the inauguration of the State officers in Arkansas, North Carolina, South Carolina, Louisiana, Georgia and Alabama.

The call of States for bills being completed, the next business in order was the consideration of the resolution offered last Monday by Holman, and which Stevens, of Pennsylvania, moved to lay on the table. It is as follows:

Resolved, That in the judgment of the House, the bonds and other securities issued by the United States, and which are exempt by law from State and municipal taxation, ought to be taxed for national purposes in an amount substantially equal to the average tax imposed in the several States for local purposes, in such manner as may substantially equalize taxation, the tax to be deducted from the coupons as they become due; and the Committee on Ways and Means shall be instructed to report a bill for the purposes above specified.

The vote resulted, yeas 16, nays 100.

Blaine moved to refer the resolution to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Holman said that would defeat the object of the resolution, and he would, therefore, call for the yeas and nays. The vote resulted yeas 88, nays 34, so the resolution was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Washburne, of Indiana, offered a joint resolution allowing 20 per cent. income on the salaries allowed to the employers in the civil service at Washington.

A motion by Selye to table it was rejected by 46 against 71, and pending the vote on rescinding the previous question the morning hour expired, and the resolution went over until next Monday.

The Speaker presented the correspondence, relative to the visit of the Chinese Embassy, to the House, and appointed Schenck, Banks and Wood, a committee to receive the Embassy.

On motion of Brooks, the Senate was invited to attend the reception.

The conference report on the Arkansas bill came up, and the House refused to table it by 37 to 102, and it was adopted without a division.

The Speaker said he had been requested to present a communication from C. W. Woolley.

Butler objected, but subsequently offered a resolution that any communication from Woolley or his counsel, placed in the hands of the Speaker, be sent to the Investigation Committee for examination.

Brooks made a point of order that the committee had not been in session for several days, and there being no quorum of it present in the city, therefore it could not have authorized the resolution.

The Speaker overruled the point of order, and the House, by 86 to 26, voted to receive the resolution.

Holman made a point of order that as the resolution referred to a communication, it should be read.

The Speaker overruled this, and after a debate, and under the operations of the previous question, it was accepted by 64 to 61.

Eldridge moved to suspend the rules for the purpose of introducing a paper from Mr. Woolley which should be read, and that having purged himself of contempt he be discharged. This the House refused to allow by 38 to 79.

Shellabarger presented a resolution that Mr. Woolley be ordered to the bar of the House and allowed to purge himself of contempt, which was agreed to.

The House then, at 3:20 p.m., went into Committee of the Whole on the tax bill, and in a quarter of an hour afterwards Eldridge moved that the committee rise, as the witness was at the bar of the House. The committee accordingly rose, and the Sergeant at Arms presented Mr. Woolley.

The Speaker addressed the witness, and read to him the resolution adopted by the House to-day, and asked him whether he was ready to make such a statement as would purge him of the contempt of the authority of the House.

Mr. Woolley, drawing a paper from his pocket and presenting it—"I am, sir. This is my answer."

After considerable debate as to a question of order, Shellabarger offered a resolution requiring Mr. Woolley to state whether he is now willing to go before the managers of the House and make answer to the question, for a refusal to answer which, he had been ordered into custody, and if so, he shall have such privilege as soon as the committee can be convened, and that he in the meantime remain in custody, and in case the witness declines, he shall be recommitted for a continuance of contempt, and so remain until he is ready to make such answer.

Brooks made a point of order that four members of the Committee are absent from the city, and the adoption of the resolution would detain the witness in further imprisonment in the dungeon.

The Speaker overruled the point, as the House had authorized the Committee to investigate by a sub-committee.

The resolution was then adopted by 93 to 32.

The Speaker then addressing the witness, said:

Mr. Woolley, I am instructed by the House of Representatives to propound to you the question, "Are you now ready to testify before the Committee, and make answer to the question for the refusal to answer which, you are now in custody?"

Mr. Woolley—As my client has testified in reference to these questions, and as I take it to be the order of the House that I shall answer, I shall do so.

Speaker—The order of the House, then, will be executed, that the witness appear before the committee as soon as convened, and in the meantime he shall remain in the custody of the Sergeant-at-Arms.

The proceedings in regard to Mr. Woolley having thus terminated, the House again went into a Committee of the Whole on the tax bill, and immediately afterwards took a recess until 9:30 p.m.

—A man named Henry De Haven, who was arrested in New York a few days since for selling barrels of water to several druggists for alcohol, has been identified as the alleged murderer of one Richard Taylor, in Philadelphia, in the month of October last, his accomplice being an individual who is supposed to have fled to Havana.

ARKANSAS.

—The Jacksonport Herald of the 23d ult says: We are called upon to record one of the most melancholy deaths that has ever fallen to our lot as a journalist, and one which so forcibly reminds us that "in the midst of life we are in death." Our informant states that on last Sunday, the 17th inst., Mr. James Duran, Miss Emma Crenshaw, niece of Mr. Ed. Carter, of Big Bottom, Independence county, and Mr. Wm. Adams, were crossing White river at McGuire's mill, in the ferry boat, and that during the voyage, and whilst the boat was near the middle of the stream, one of the horses became frightened and unmanageable, and commenced backing to the end of the boat where Miss Crenshaw was standing, and kicked her twice, the last blow striking her in the breast and knocking her into the river. Mr. Duran, who had hold of the horse, sprang in after her, caught her, and by almost superhuman exertions swam ashore with her, but only to find her in a dying condition. She was taken to the nearest house and everything done for her that was possible, but all to no purpose, as she died that evening. We are also informed that Miss C. was to have been married that evening to Mr. Duran.

—Wm. Henry was killed by George K. Stevens near Village creek, about eight miles from Jacksonport, on Tuesday evening of last week. A dispute arose, when Henry knocked Stevens down, who stabbed him and escaped. Henry's little brother and sister were present.

—Alice Kingsbury, the "Elfin Star," has been playing a most successful engagement at the Little Rock Theater.

—The Van Buren Press says: "The United States District Court, Judge Caldwell presiding, is still in session. For the past four days business has been pushed along with railroad speed. On Tuesday no less than six cases were disposed of. The grand jury having closed up all business before them were discharged on Tuesday. Among the cases decided we notice the following: United States vs. horses, mules, wagons, merchandise, etc. —default; decree of condemnation This is the case of a large train of wagons seized for introducing liquor into the Indian country, valued at $50,000." We understand that the Hon. A. McDonald, "U. S. Senator" elect, will be a large loser by this condemnation.

—The Sicilian police have captured one of the most ferocious brigands ever yet known. His nature is so bloodthirsty that his own companions were afraid of him, and he has frequently been known to bite off the ears of his victims and eat them. His appearance is frightful, and he bears a stronger resemblance to a gorilla than a human being.

—A correspondent of the New York Times asserts that Mr. Richard Granville Harrison, of Philadelphia, and not David R. Harrison, of New York, is the rightful heir to the sum of $14 000,000. The same writer also says that Wm. Harrison was the grandfather, and not the father of David, as stated.

—A special dispatch to the Cincinnati Enquirer, dated Bangor, Maine, May 22, says that the Belfast Republican Journal, having the largest circulation of any Democratic paper in Maine, to day hoists the name of Pendleton for President, and urges his nomination in an able article. The unanimous vote of Maine will be given to Pendleton in the National Convention.

—The number of immigrants that passed through Columbus, Ohio, during the past week, and the States where they intend to settle, are as follows: Ohio, 82; Missouri, 198; Illinois, 183; Indiana, 94; Kentucky, 56; Tennessee, 42; Wisconsin, 38; Minnesota, 64; Iowa, 34; Michigan, 57. Total, 907.

ST. PATRICK'S PICNIC.—Our Catholic readers should not forget St. Patrick's picnic, which comes off on Wednesday, June 10th. The object is one in every way worthy of their support, and we hope to see them well represented out at Ford's place on that day.

VARIETIES.—The Varieties continues to draw full and enthusiastic crowds. Charlie Broom, like a skillful caterer, places before the people a bill that pleases everybody. The Gardner sisters, Florence sisters, and Mlle Henrietta give universal satisfaction, and are destined to become fixed favorites.

ELECTION of officers of Penn Chapter No. 22, Royal Arch Masons, for the ensuing twelve months: John Zent, H. P.; D. C. Trader, K.; Gus Reder, S.; H. Lemon, C. of H.; D. B. Forster, P. S.; J. THE planters in the neighborhood of Memphis are turning their attention to the growth of breadstuffs, and we hope to chronicle the arrival of many thousands of bushels of wheat this season. Messrs. Newton Ford & Co., No. 17 Union street, received their first shipment this morning, grown by Mr. G. A. Reynolds, of DeSoto county, Mississippi, near Collierville, Tenn. The sample was very fine, and will no doubt command a good price.

BUENA VISTA SPRINGS.—To the invalid in search of health, there is no one place in the whole list of springs whose waters are "for the healing of the people" that we would sooner recommend than Buena Vista Springs, near Russellville, Ky. They are situated only about six miles from Russellville, and the road thither is a romantic and pleasant one. The Hotel buildings are large and commodious, and the fare is, or was, excellent. The location is quiet, pleasant and economical, and therefore we recommend the Buena Vista Springs.

POLICE ITEMS.

—There were fourteen arrests up to 8 o'clock, at Causey street station; six colored and eight white.

—There were fifty-six dollars assessed in fines at the lower station yesterday, only twenty-six of which were collected, however.

—Mary Vincent was yesterday arrested, charged with having stolen fifty dollars' worth of goods. 'Squire Kiernan will hear the matter to-day.

—The body of a drowned man was found yesterday evening. It was too much decayed to recognize it.

—Four white boys were arrested for playing base ball on the Sabbath.

—Capt. Perry's condition is considered as still precarious. There are now strong hopes of his recovery. The appearance of mortification has disappeared.

—W. L. Porter was yesterday before Squire Kiernan, charged with "shooting with intent to kill." Porter was bound over in the sum of $2000, to answer the charge at the next term of the Circuit Court.

—'Squire Kiernan will hear the case this morning against Corney Richtman, Joseph Richtman and Rosena Richtman, charged with "shooting with intent to murder John Carlin."

WHITE STATION, M. & C. R. R., SATURDAY, June 6, 1868.

At a called meeting of citizens to organize an Agricultural and Industrial Club, Byrid Hill was appointed Chairman and J. H. Goodlett, Secretary.

Holmes, Robert McKenna and J. H. Goodlett were appointed a committee to recommend officers and by-laws, and report the same for a permanent organization on Saturday, the 13th inst., at 3 o'clock p.m., at the same place.

On motion, Dr. T. H. Todd was requested to address the citizens on the subject of agriculture at our next meeting. J. H. GOODLETT, Sec'y.

ANOTHER MURDER.

The Murderer Escapes.

For two or three days past the city has been remarkably quiet, and we have been from hour to hour predicting something startling and horrible. Our prophecies were made good yesterday about noon, by the report which was freely circulated in police and reportorial circles, that a well-known negro had been shot dead by a child, his own brother-in-law, within two squares of the APPEAL office. On hearing the report, we started for the scene of the tragedy, which we found to be a low frame tenement house fronting on Adams street, and occupied by negro families. As we approached the building we were compelled to shove our way through an excited crowd of negroes, who had surrounded and completely taken possession of the neighborhood, and with great difficulty we made our way up stairs where the body lay. There, from several witnesses, we learned the particulars of one of the most extraordinary murders that ever came under our notice. We give the statement of the affair in the words of the witnesses who looked on from its inception up to its terrible culmination. The wife of the murdered man says: "My name is Angeline Fenner; I was formerly the slave of Dr. Fenner, and was called Angeline Fenner; I have two brothers, one named Sol and the other Gilbert; Sol is a grown man, and Gilbert is a child; he is about fifteen years old; both are black like me; my husband (the murdered man) is named Loyd Brown; some time ago he was engaged in driving a watercart for Mr. Tom Duffin; about two months ago he was discharged, and he got work at Mr. Harry Wetherbee's saloon. Mr. Duffin a day or two ago gave him work again, and he was to have gone to work to-morrow (to-day.) This morning he and some other negroes came up to the house and commenced playing cards, on a table at the head of the stairs, in the second story, between our room and the room of another boarder. While they were playing Sol came up, and wanted to get into the game, but Loyd would not let him. They commenced to quarrel on that, and Loyd broke up the game, and took the table into our room. After putting it in there he walked down stairs and there he met Sol Fenner, who called him a —— and threatened to shoot him. While they were talking Gilbert came up and asked what was the matter. On being told, he called Loyd Brown a d—d son of a b—h, and said he would soon fix him. Running past Brown, he got up the stairs some steps ahead of him, and darted into our room. In the corner was a loaded gun, and this he snatched up. As Loyd put his foot on the topmost stair, he leveled and fired and Loyd fell—the whole load having entered in the left shoulder, producing almost instant death."

The other accounts agree with this statement.

After shooting, the boy ran into an adjoining room and leaped out of a window on to the roof, whence he leaped to the ground, a distance of thirty feet, and escaped, and up to this writing, (11 o'clock p.m.,) he has not been arrested.

WANTED! WANTED!—There is a vacancy at this office for persons having the capacity and qualifications to fill the following positions:

We want, first, a general censor, one who will look over all the manuscript that is written up, and express to us his candid opinion on the subject discussed. We want him to be well skilled in "Roget's Thesaurus," and able always to furnish a flattering synonymn for every opprobrious word in the English language. We want him to look over our copy and always substitute "German" where "Dutch" happens to have been used, "Italian" for "diego" or "brigand," and Hebrew where by accident the monosyllable "Jew" has been written. He must also be a mentor in matters of taste, and be ready to inform us when we infringe the dictates of good breeding or the rules of Chesterfield.

The second we want to be promptly on hand in the morning to examine our mails, tear off the wrappers, and read over to us aloud the matters discussed in the various exchanges. It shall be his especial duty to sit in the editorial room not less than six hours a day, and entertain in as ostentatious a manner as possible, all visitors who happen to come in.

A third must be able to read intelligibly, and explain to us aloud the debates in Congress, and the latest foreign news while the printer is waiting for copy.

A fourth must carefully watch the police reports, and if John Smiths' name happens to appear for mauling Jim Brown, or larruping Mrs. Smith, be ready to state that it is not our friend J. Q. X. Y. Z. Smith, of Smith, Muggins & Co., but another Smith altogether.

All hands must be ready to assert anything, deny anything, apologize for anything, and to blow over and take the credit for anything.

Above all, they must be ready to go to all balls, picnics, excursions and entertainments of every sort and "represent the paper."

To four persons possessing the above requisite qualifications a liberal salary will be paid if application is made soon and often enough at the countingroom of this paper.

PERSONAL.—Dr. J. Madison Gray called upon us yesterday. The doctor has been for the past two months lecturing throughout the neighboring States, and will give us Memphians a specimen of his elocutionary powers in a few days. Due notice will be given of his appearance.

—E. W. S. Browne, Esq., general agent of the famous "Old Reliable" "Little Miami," is in the city. He is in transit on railroad business, and will only be in town a day or two.

—Capt. Dan Able is in our city on a short visit, having arrived yesterday by rail from St. Louis. His many friends welcome him back, and we rejoice to see that the Commodore bears the appearance of kind treatment, and is enjoying the best of health—a continuance of which blessing is wished him by all who know him here.

—Capt. Dan Adams is also in town, and will remain a day or two. His numerous friends will be glad to know that he is stopping at the Overton.

THE PARLOUR OPERA—MISS ISABEL MCCULLOCH.—We are always shy of commending theatrical or operatic companies in advance to the citizens of Memphis; but we have good reason to believe that we are quite safe in speaking in terms more than ordinarily favourable, and, for us, highly laudatory of the parlour operatic performances with which we are to be favoured for not more than two or possibly three nights.

To-night the Barber of Seville, by the celebrated Maestro, Rossini, will be given, with Miss McCulloch as "Rosina," the other roles by Boye, Orlandini, Susini and Locatelli, with Torriani at the piano.

We were in Charleston recently, while this Company performed there; and heard from those competent to judge the most favourable accounts of the satisfactory character of the performances. Miss McCulloch herself is a native of Columbia, S. C., has studied the art divine thoroughly, and won a high reputation as a singer.

The following notice, from the Charleston Mercury of May 13th, our own information assures us, does the Company no more than justice:

The Opera.—The dining-room of the Mills House was crowded to its utmost capacity, some ladies, even, were compelled to stand the whole evening. Miss McCulloch had every reason to feel flattered at the high compliment paid her last night, both in the numbers that braved the elements, and the quality of the audience, which decidedly was one of the most refined and critical that has ever assembled in our city.

Not only had a brilliant audience assembled to do honor to the talents and virtues of this gifted lady, but every wreath of the tasteful floral decorations of the hall was trimmed by the fair hands of those who had been the schoolmates and companions of her who—stepping aside from the paths of private life—has forever marked her name as a gifted child of song.

Miss McCulloch surpassed herself in Rosina. The purity and freshness of her tone thrilled the audience with the utmost delight. The singing lesson was chef d'œuvre, during the rendition of which a profound silence prevailed, and as the last note died upon the ear, an outburst of applause shook the house, and a shower of bouquets fell upon the stage.

Upon the close of the Opera, the applause was deafening, and continued until Miss McCulloch again made her appearance, and again favored the audience with their favorite ballad, the "Last Rose of Summer."

THE COURTS.

CHANCERY COURT—Wm. M. Smith, Chancellor.—Stands adjourned until Wednesday next. A calendar of cases set for hearing will be published on that day. The Clerk and Master will take an account to-day in the following cases: Wilkinson vs. Franklin Insurance Company; Durant et al. vs. Davis.

LAW COURT—James O. Pierce, Judge. Stands adjourned until the 22d of June, 1868. The following order appears upon the records of the Court: "It is ordered by the Court that the jurors and witnesses summoned to appear in this Court on to-day make their appearance before the Judge of this Court at 10 o'clock on Monday, June 22, 1868."

CRIMINAL COURT.—Wm. Hunter, Judge.—The Grand Jury will be empanneled to-day. The docket will be taken up in its regular order beginning at case No. 1. Parties defendants and attorneys will take notice, as forfeitures will be taken in all cases where parties are out on bonds and do not enter their appearance on the day their cases are called for trial. At two o'clock to-day the habeas corpus case of the State vs. Charles H. Crawford will be called up for investigation—charge of administering adulterated liquors for the purpose of obtaining a watch from John Norton.

Last evening Judge Hunter heard the habeas corpus case of the State vs. Dr. Lawrence, alias The King of Pain. The charge was, obtaining money under false pretences. From the evidence, it would seem that the King of Pain was called on to see a negro man named Robert Shaw, who was dying of consumption. The King promised to raise the negro in three days, for which promise he received twenty-five dollars. The negro died in three days—hence the prosecution. Judge Hunter held the defendant to answer the above charge in the sum of $1000.

MUNICIPAL COURT—Geo. W. Waldran, Judge.—The trial docket was called on yesterday up to case No. 904. A number of cases were stricken from the docket in which the parties had never been arrested.

The cases set for trial to-day are as follows:

646 The State vs Myers and Doe.
1083 Same vs M. C. Castillo.

RIVER MATTERS.

WEATHER AND RIVERS.

The weather is cool and pleasant. The river here is receding steadily at the rate of half an inch per hour, and has fallen fifteen feet altogether. The Ohio is falling from Pittsburg to Louisville, with seventeen feet in the channel at Cincinnati, and seven and a half feet in the canal. At St. Louis the river is stationary, with nine feet in the channel between that point and Cairo. White and St. Francis rivers are still receding, with a fair steamboat stage in each. The Arkansas is falling, with three feet scant above Little Rock, and five feet from there out. The upper Missouri and Mississippi are rising slowly.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Capt. Dan Able and Capt. Nat Green, of the steamer Mollie Able, arrived in the city last evening and were duly received by their friends.

The famous low pressure steamer Richmond left New Orleans Saturday for Louisville with another big trip. She will be here this evening and leave at 6 p.m. Capt. Stut Neal, with the assistance of his valuable clerks, Messrs. Wolfolk and Lodge, is building up a good reputation for the Richmond. Success attend them.

The Cora S, Capt. King, will be in port this evening, and will leave to-morrow at 10 o'clock a.m. for the Arkansas river. Al Croxal is her chief purser.

The steamer Champion, which sunk in the Ohio at Chewaults' Reach on Friday last, can be raised. She is sunk in water up to her boiler deck, and lies straight with her head toward the Kentucky shore. She belongs to Capt. W. Gregg, J. M. Mason, W. Isham and Jno. William on, of Cincinnati, and is insured in that city for $12 000

The Magenta, Alaska and Louisiana are due to-day from New Orleans.

The Commercial, Capt. Wm. Ashford, is the regular Tuesday packet for White river, leaving to-day at 5 p.m. for all points on White river, connecting at Duvall's Bluff with the Little Rock Railroad for all points on the Arkansas. Messrs. Charley and Johnny Smithers, two clever gentlemen, have charge of the office.

Capt. John B. Davis, Superintendent of the White River Packet Company, has authorized the Commercial and Liberty No. 2 to sell half fare tickets to all who wish to attend the National Convention on the 4th of July.

The Darling will be in port to-morrow from Cincinnati.

The towboat Peytona, from New Orleans, is laid up here repairing her machinery.

Capt. John Adams left last night for New Orleans.

The Mollie Hambleton, Capt. Bowman, leaves to-day at 5 p.m. for St. Francis river. Messrs. Paine, Clark and Shell are clerks.

The St. Louis Democrat of Saturday says; No discrimination in rates appears to be the watchword the New Orleans steamboats are adopting, and as it is very generally supposed that shippers will give the preference to steamboats over barges, rates being the same, the barges will be dead stock, routed and driven from the field, provided the steamboats carry on the contest on that line long enough. Flour 20c per bbl.; bacon 15c per 100, corn 15c per sack, oats 20c, and other articles in proportion, were the announced rates yesterday, by steamer and barge; fluctuating, unsettled, wild, they were characterized by some merchants and agents. We will hereafter carry at barge rates, and permit no margin for the barges, said the boatmen.

The Lexington has been sold at St. Louis by the Messrs. Alexander, to Capt. H. G. Carson, Thomas Hutchinson and Jones, all practical steamboatmen, for a moderate sum—$4800.

The bridge over the Mississippi river at Quincy is rapidly approaching completion. The stone work will all be done in the course of two weeks. On several of the spans the iron is up and the track laid, and everything ready to await the completion of the other sections of the bridge.

Col. R. K. Byrd, a delegate from Roane county, being sent to Washington for the purpose of representing and urging the necessity and importance of a national appropriation for the opening of navigation on the Tennessee river, departed for the National capital on the 5th inst.

The novel experiment of moving a house by water was tried at Bridgeport, with success, the other day. A large house was launched and floated through the draw and down the river, landing safely in East Bridgeport, its destination.

Advices from snag-boat De Rossy say that in 6 days they have taken from the Missouri River, in a distance of 3 miles in the vicinity of Dozier's Landing, 73 snags, ranging in size from 60 feet in length and 3 feet in circumference, to 140 in length and 17½ in circumference. They expect to soon make the Missouri as safe to navigate as any other stream.

Our Latest Improved
NEW SCALE PIANO-FORTE.
GROVESTEEN & CO.,
499 Broadway, N. Y.,
THESE instruments, after the most flattering testimonials from the first Pianists in the country, who, at our solicitation, have tested them in the severest manner possible, have been pronounced THE FINEST SQUARE PIANO-FORTE MADE IN THE WORLD.
It has always been our policy, during the forty-six years that we have manufactured Pianos, twelve thousand of which are now in use in the United States and Europe, to give the best instrument at the lowest price. Our superior facilities enable us to offer them from one to three hundred dollars less than any other First Class House.
The tone of these instruments are remarkable for their peculiar Sweetness and Great Brilliancy, never losing their quality when forced to their utmost capacity. The lower register retaining its positiveness, does not destroy the middle and upper registers by mingling with them in disagreeable confusion, the refined beauty of tone being equally delightful to the unpractised and to the most cultivated ear.
They are an entirely new style of Piano, finished in the most superb manner, with four full round corners front and back, heavily carved legs and Lyre Serpentine Base richly moulded, and each instrument is fully warranted for five years. sep6 dawly

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE NATIONAL
COMPANY.
A new enterprise, to be known as the National Telegraph Company, has been organized with valuable franchises conferred by a recent act of Congress for the purpose of establishing Trunk Lines of Telegraphs on all the principal railroads and mail routes in the United States. The stock is to be issued upon the same principle as that of the Merchant's Union Express Company, which recently commenced operations. The design is to interest the entire business community in the enterprise. This is done, not so much to dispose of the stock as it is to secure the business of the country through which the lines pass.
The Capital is to be
$10,000,000,
In 100,000 Shares, of the par value of
$100 PER SHARE,
But the actual amount to be paid in cash is
$35 Per Share,
And this amount is to be paid as follows: One per cent. of the par at the time of subscribing, and no more, until the entire capital has been subscribed, and then on calls to be made by the Board of Directors; instalments not to exceed five per cent. per month. When thirty-five per cent. of the par value of the shares has been paid, certificates of stock will be issued This will give the company a paid up
CASH CAPITAL OF $3,500,000,
Which will be sufficient to duplicate lines to all or nearly all the paying points reached by the present monopoly.
The present Telegraph Companies of the country have been consolidated into one huge monopoly, and are now earning over SIX MILLIONS OF DOLLARS per year, or over one hundred per cent. on the actual cost of their lines, their present capital having been watered over ONE THOUSAND per cent.
THE NATIONAL TELEGRAPH COMPANY have a recognition from the United States Government of the importance of their enterprise, with a grant of the most valuable franchises ever conferred upon a telegraph company. No competing line has ever had the right now granted by Congress to this company to construct and operate lines over every RAILROAD and MAIL ROUTE in the United States. The position of this company differs from that of any company ever before organized. The question of the RIGHT OF WAY IS FOREVER SETTLED.
The stockholders of this company cannot be sold out or TRANSFERRED to any other company. The act of Congress under which this company has been organized, prohibits any transfer of the franchises granted.

CALLS---HOW TO BE MADE.
One per cent. of the Stock will be required on subscribing, and subsequent calls, not to exceed five per cent. per month, will be made by the Board of Directors, from time to time, as may be necessary, to supply funds to construct and equip the lines; but no calls will be made after the one per cent is paid, until the ENTIRE CAPITAL STOCK shall have been subscribed.

ACTUAL CAPITAL REQUIRED
The Company confidently believe that thirty-five per cent. of the Capital Stock will construct and fully equip
25,000 MILES OF WIRE,
Which will connect all the commercial cente and important places in the United States This opinion rests upon the most reliable estimates and responsible offers to construct and equip the lines.
The National Telegraph Company is organized under the Laws of the State of New York and franchises conferred by an act of Congress, approved July 24, 1866.

MEMPHIS APPEAL.

BY TELEGRAPH.

Noon Dispatches.

BROWNSVILLE, June 8, 1 p.m.—No decisions were rendered this morning. The Court is now engaged on case number four, on the law docket.

UTICA, N. Y., June 8.—A terrible storm of wind and rain passed over this region Saturday evening. The brick chimney, eighty feet high, attached to the Eagle cotton factory of George W. Chadwick, of New Hartford, six miles from this city, was thrown upon the roof of the machine shop, crushing the structure to the ground. Eight men were at work in the shop. One named Harry Knapp was instantly killed, and four others were severely injured, one of whom it is thought cannot recover. Knapp was horribly mutilated. Loss about $16,000.

NEW YORK, June 8.—A woman named Koenig, residing at Gottenburg, N. J., charged, on evidence, a physician named Leclole with having caused the death of her husband by giving morphine to him.

A large increase was noticeable yesterday in the number of arrests for the violation of the Excise law. Six persons were brought before Justice Mansfield, and eight before Justice Hogan.

A Washington dispatch to the Herald says that another bid for the Indian land job has come to light. On Wednesday, the Osage nation was induced by promises and intimations on the part of the Commissioner, which is headed by Indian Commissioner Taylor, to sell 8,000,000 acres of land on their reservation for twenty cents an acre, payable in fifteen years, to a private party, while other bids were made for the same by other parties.

Telegraphic dates from Sissal, Mexico, to June 4th, state that Cepilla has been re-elected Governor of Yucatan.

One hundred and fifty of Col. Dominquez's force had escaped from the Indian massacre which occurred some time ago. The English in Balize continue to supply the Indians with munitions of war.

BALTIMORE, June 8.—The graves of Confederate dead in London Park Cemetery were decorated with flowers yesterday, under the auspices of the ladies of Baltimore.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL,
MEMPHIS, June 8, 1868.

Our banks report more activity in the demand for money than has prevailed for some time back. This may be owing to the fact that capitalists show a better disposition to operate in good paper than they have heretofore done. There is nothing doing, either, in Exchange, and the capital of our banks is seeking some other channel by which it may increase, rather than lie idly in their vaults. At any rate good paper or collaterals are in favor.

Rates of Exchange are nominally the same as last week. New York Sight is taken at par, and from customers at a premium of ⅛c, while New Orleans, little of which is now offered, is taken at ⅛c discount. Checking on New York at ½ premium. On Nashville, Louisville, St. Louis and Cincinnati at ½ premium, and on New Orleans at par.

Gold is steady, the premium not varying much during the week, but closing lower than it opened. The closing rate in New York to-day was 139¾. In this market buyers are doing very little in coin, and as there is no counter demand are compelled to keep a shipping margin. They buy at 138 to 138⅛c, as to amount. Selling nominally at 139½ to 140.

Our brokers report the Scrip market quiet. We could learn of no transaction during the day of any note. The offering rate by dealers is 72 to 73c, while they sell at 75 to 80c. Outsiders are unwilling to sell at less than 75c.

County Warrants are also dull, there being no demand at present from taxpayers, and speculators are always shy of this kind of money. The buying rates are nominally 60 to 62c. Selling at 64 to 66c.

Police Scrip is firm, with small demand. Brokers buy at 84 to 85c. Selling at 88 to 90c, as to amount.

The cotton market for the week has been quiet. The good feeling which prevailed at the opening of the week in New York and Liverpool was of but short duration, although prices did not vary anything to note until to day when they declined. The Liverpool market of this morning opened quiet, with Uplands 11¼d; Orleans, 11¾d, but at the close was easier and dull. Uplands, 11⅜ to 11½; Orleans, 11⅝ to 11¾d. Sales 7000 bales.

The New York market at 10:40 a.m. was dull and drooping, but not quotably lower. At noon it was still dull and tending downwards. At 2 p.m. prices were entirely nominal at about 30c. for Middlings, 31¼ for Good Middlings, 30½ for Orleans. It closed dull and unchanged, with sales only amounting to 200 bales. Our market closed without buyers. Middlings nominally 28⅞, and holders asking 29c. Sales for the week have been light and only taken by some two or three buyers who are filling small weekly orders.

Wholesale Market.

The commercial transactions of the past week have been light in all branches of trade. Business is about over for the season, and a summer quietude reigns. A number of our prominent merchants have availed themselves of the dull times and are off on visits to their country cousins, and customers generally. Our transient residents, those who come to stay with us during the business season only, have departed from our midst, and are no longer to be seen on our flags. Their offices are closed for the summer. For nearly three months to come there is a prospect of but little to occupy the attention of merchants and business men. The crop reports are encouraging however from all sections, and the hope is entertained that the fall business will be active. The wheat harvest is now upon us, and from those who have visited the interior, we learn that grain shocks greet the eye in all directions. Another shipment of the new crop was received in this city yesterday and was forwarded to St. Louis. Our city mills are now all ready to commence operations, and within a few days we expect to see flour upon the market made at our own doors out of our own grain. Orders are already received by some of our merchants to purchase at prices running from $2 to $2 25 per bushel, which we think will be the ruling rates during the early part of the season at least, though our mills are prepared to buy at prices that will not justify shipment to other points.

The grocery market for the week has, we think, shown some improvement over that of last week. Prices are firm and stocks ample.

Under the very light demand here and elsewhere, the meat market has declined and is tending downwards. Our merchants have anticipated this, and have generally only light stocks on hand—ample, however, to supply the requirements of the trade and at prices but little if any higher than in Cincinnati, Louisville or St. Louis.

The demand for feed is steady and supply fair. Very little is coming in by steamer, but the receipts by flatboat and railroad have not fallen off during the week to any extent.

The boot and shoe market is quiet and prices firm. The demand is only in a small way to keep up assortments, and is for no particular line of goods. The Eastern market is also quiet with but little demand, and but little is expected during the present month, business having slacked up to almost a stand—still in some of the manufacturing towns. Manufacturers are making up some fall goods, but active production will not become general until the key-note is given in the shape of advance orders; yet it is very generally conceded that the prospects for a good fall trade are quite as encouraging, if not mere so, than they were for the spring demand. Meanwhile, prices continue firm, and goods are costing high to manufacture.

The dry goods market is somewhat weaker than last week, with the best brands of prints selling at 13 to 14c; heavy 4-4 brown muslins, 17½ to 18c; lighter grades, 15 to 16c. All bleached goods are ½ to 1½c under last week's quotations. Osnaburgs and plaids remain firm. The mills are working on half time, owing to the dullness of trade and recent reduction in prices. Cotton yarns have declined 2 to 3c per pound.

The produce market is very quiet. New potatoes are in good supply, and vegetables of every kind come in freely.
